

Management System Diagnostics

I. Service Overview

“Our Management System Diagnostic programmes are aimed at giving independent assessment and confidence in your key management systems.”

Are your management systems ensuring the highest levels of safety and efficiency? How do you measure up to your competitors? Could you benefit from an independent health check by impartial industry leading professionals?

Our suite of diagnostic tools critically examine your management processes and organisational arrangements, giving you a fresh perspective and the information you need to stay safe, reliable and one step ahead of the competition.

Our skilled and experienced consultants will critically assess your systems, infrastructure and people to evaluate your management systems operational effectiveness. This will give you an expert, independent and confidential assessment of your operating environments and benchmark you against best practices.

WE..... Assess > Understand > Report > Recommend > Improve

3. How will you benefit?

“We supply powerful ammunition to improve your organisational performance and support you to gain confidence that you are at the top of your game.”

Safety - Reliability - Efficiency

We build on your in-house management capabilities by providing you with an independent health check, free from internal opinion and bias. We act as a catalyst to review, performance and change. We will give you clarity of the issues that are holding your organisation back, enabling you to refocus effort and investment where it is needed and where it maximises return on investment.

4. Our approach

“We work comfortably at all levels in an organisation ”

Our team of highly experienced consultants use structured diagnostic tools to assess every aspect of your organisation's management systems to evaluate and gain a thorough understanding of the issues affecting your organisational performance.

We work at every level in the organisation to give you confidence in your systems and resources, identifying any obstacles to success and under-performing processes needing attention. Our advanced scoring and data analysis systems will provide you with a clear understanding of your level of probability to achieve success.

We operate a cost effective top down approach – identifying the highest risk areas first, before moving through the whole organisation. Substantiated findings and logged. Examples help you gain confidence in our report, which invariably contain valuable recommendations, external benchmarks and initial priorities.
