

Regulatory Advisory Services

1. Service Overview

“Gain access to the right expertise that will help you stay up-to-date”

In the complex European airworthiness regulatory environment, few organisations retain the expertise or capacity to stay on top of regulatory or policy change. Baines Simmons can help you stay abreast of change and provide interpretation advice.

Scope of regulations covered

- EASA Part M - Continuing Airworthiness
- EASA Part 145 - Approved Maintenance Organisation
- EASA Part 147 - Approved Maintenance Training Organisation
- EASA Part 21 - Sub-part G – Production Organisation

2. What will our service do for you?

“Expert support and advice to manage your regulatory responsibilities”

We offer two complementary, flexible services that help you understand your regulatory environment with on-call advice by telephone, e-mail or site visits:

- ▶ On-call interpretation advice
- ▶ Pro-active change notification service, using a customised pick-list that reflects your precise needs

Our team of full-time specialists will form a readily available knowledge resource, operating within agreed bespoke retainer arrangements to precisely meet your needs.

We will provide:

- ▶ A clear understanding of regulations and policies that affect you
- ▶ Provide rapid interpretation advice
- ▶ Advise of industry best-practice whilst complying with the regulations
- ▶ Notify you of proposed regulatory changes and their implementation
- ▶ Comment on published NPA's on your behalf.

3. How will you benefit?

“A valuable advisory support service, providing you with relevant and practical application knowledge”

We will answer all of your questions relating to regulatory interpretation and compliance, saving you the hassle of research, study and following complex cross-reference trails. Our daily interaction with the European Airworthiness Regulations means we can usually give you an immediate response.

Baines Simmons consultants will filter the flow of new and revised regulations, advising you of relevant notifications as they arise, enabling you to plan change in good time.

- ▶ We enable you to focus on what you do well, secure in the knowledge that we are monitoring the regulations
- ▶ We extend your team's competence by providing clear regulatory advice
- ▶ We keep you in the picture and sort the wheat from the chaff.
